Ps. 107:2, “Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom He has redeemed from the hand of the enemy” (NKJV)

Have you been redeemed? Have you accepted the salvation of the LORD? Are you washed in the blood of the Lamb? Has He redeemed you from the hand of the enemy? THEN SAY SO! I don't understand why so many Christians are so timid about their salvation and sharing it with others. Someone once told me that it is somewhat like a young man finally asking his girlfriend to marry him. She says yes. And then he tells no one? No of course not! He shouts it from the housetops! Why? Because it is a life-changing moment. We were doomed but now we have freedom. We were destined to be separated from God forever, but now we are His very own.

If you have been redeemed, there is nothing; absolutely nothing more amazing than that. If you had been cured of cancer, you would tell everyone! Now listen to this. We all have a cancer called sin. We are terminal. It will ultimately take our physical life. Rom. 3:23, “For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our LORD.” But God has redeemed us through His death, burial and resurrection. We now have redemption. Rom. 5:8, “but God demonstrates His own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.”

Let us not be silent anymore. If we don't praise Him, the rocks and the hills will cry out. Our awesome LORD deserves our words of testimony and praise. LET THE REDEEMED OF THE LORD SAY SO!

Dear LORD, help us to show up, stand up, and speak up about Your awesome work of redemption in our lives. You deserve to be known by all. Help us not to be silent any longer. This world needs to meet the Redeemer of all; Jesus Christ our LORD. In Jesus Name, Amen
