Ps. 104:33-34, “I will sing to the Lord all my life; I will sing praise to my God as long as I live. May my meditation be pleasing to Him, as I rejoice in the Lord.”

I enjoy reading through the Psalms on a regular basis. In fact, you can read five Psalms a day and read through the book in a month. It is a refreshing and reminding way of realizing what our lives are really all about.

In today’s passage, we see David making a statement about singing to the LORD. I have a question for you. When was the last time (not in church) that you just got alone with God and began to sing praises to Him? You may think that no one wants to hear you sing, but I can tell you that there is no one else who longs to hear your voice more than your Heavenly Father.

Right now, I’m in a period of my life where I can remote with my grandchildren and not only see them, but also hear them. My grandson loves to sing and I love to hear him! It melts my heart and I would do anything for him. If that is the way it affects me as a fallen man, imagine how it touches the heart of God to hear you sing to Him. Does He deserve it? Absolutely! Does He desire it? No doubt! There is an older chorus by Laurie Klein titled I Love You Lord. Maybe you could just take a moment, get alone with the Lord, and sing the words to Him. He’s not worried if you sing every note on pitch. He just loves to hear you.

*I love You Lord, and I lift my voice
To worship You, O my soul rejoice
Take joy my King, in what You hear
May it be a sweet, sweet sound in Your ear*

Dear LORD, we desire to honor and worship You with our voices. Help us to sing praises to you as long as we live. We want to be in Your presence. In Jesus Name, Amen
